For over 20 years, Jim has been performing creative musical play programs as ScribbleMonster for libraries, early childhood, schools, and other special events for children and families. Additionally, Jim creates children's books, music, radio, and television content including his work as a producer, writer, and featured performer on PBS show Wimee's Words. ScribbleMonster's productions have been acclaimed by National Public Radio, Parents' Choice Awards and Parenting Magazine, among others.

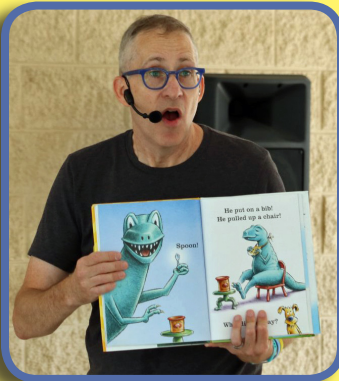

"ScribbleMonster relates and connects with young audiences using a mix of kindness, music and humor that inspires interaction."

-Megan S., Program Manager, Grand Rapids Children's Museum

"Jim is a musical delight and overflows with joy, playfulness, and quirky inspiration!"

-Sara P., Community Engagement Manager, Kent District Library

"Kids love the interactive show. As a programmer, I could not ask for a more professional and nicer group to work with."

-Ann Marie S., Cultural Arts Manager, Glenview Park District

"ScribbleMonster brings energy, wit and a true understanding of what makes kids want to sing and laugh and jump around."

-Elizabeth M., Director of Children's Services, Chicago Public Library
